

Governor's Traffic
Safety Committee

Below 100 Best Practices Symposium

October 30-31, 2018
Syracuse, NY

- Day 1: Keynote challenge from Gordon Graham, founder of Lexipol and renowned risk management expert. A short overview of Below 100 will follow and then presentations from two award-winning law enforcement leaders who have dramatically improved safety within their organizations with programs built on a foundation of Below 100. (Full Day)
- Day 2: Facilitated workshop resulting in an action plan for implementation. (Half Day)

No cost for the symposium

Continental breakfasts, lunches provided

This symposium has been specifically designed for law enforcement officials who serve in a command-level, managerial or administrative capacity and who are truly committed to officer safety. This event will challenge agency leaders to focus on cultural and policy changes that can virtually eliminate preventable line-of-duty deaths and injuries plus help your officers to become highway safety role models. You will learn how law enforcement leaders have built successful safety programs that have resulted in a significant reduction in officer crashes and injuries. Morale has improved and substantial cost savings have been realized. The goal is to come away with an action plan to implement a program and become a leader in highway safety...starting with your own organization. It doesn't take money, it takes commitment!

For more information contact GTSC Law Enforcement Liaison Anthony D'Agostino, anthony.dagostino@dmv.ny.gov